PRINCE OF SIAM ST. LOUIS' GUEST VIEWS FAIR SITE

After Inspecting Business Portion of City He Went to Forest Park.

WELCOMED BY THE MAYOR

FUTURE RULER ARRIVED THIS MORNING AT 8:20.

He Will Dine at the St. Louis Club This Evening and Then Attend the Horse Show—Departs at 11:55.

The Crown Prince of Siam is the guest of St. Louis for the day.

On board his special train from Chicago last night he remarked, in perfect English, with a fine British accent acquired during nine years at Oxford:

"St. Louis! Ah, that's the city where they have put most of their prominent citizens in jail. I presume there will be no one to meet me, then."

There was no one to meet the prince officially at the moment of his arrival, owing to the fact that he had expressed his desire to breakfast aboard his special train.

His royal highness, Somdet Chao Phaya Maha Vajravudh, next King of Siam, and the first crown prince to visit St. Louis since the Prince of Wales in 1880, arrived at Union Station at 8:20.

The "brown prince" came in his special train of four coaches, consisting of the private car Columbus, in which the late President McKinley frequently toured, an observation couch, a dinner and a baggage car.

About 500 persons other than the regular car. He travels with 48 pieces of baggage.

Traveling contingent were present to see the prince, and 40 policemen were drawn up to form a lane from gate No. 15 through the midway and the main waiting room. Apparently the police department expected the royal guest and his suite to pass through immediately after his arrival.

The program, however, as published yesterday, was for the prince to breakfast aboard his train.

Most of the people waited in impatience for an hour. Many then went home, but others filled their places.

The prince traveled the following afternoon. Prince Chakrabongse, his attendant, the Siamese minister Col. David B. Cal. Phay Baiwai, his first aid-de-camp; Capt. Luang Sarasidhi, second aid-de-camp; Mom A. Anuvatra, private secretary; Lunag Surayudi, aid-de-camp to Prince Chakrabongse; E. H. Loftus, secretary Siamese legation; J. H. Gore, Columbian University, Washington, D. C., and H. Y. Darnell, travel agent Pennsylvania railroad; L. C. Taylor and P. H. Taylor, of the secret service bureau, Washington, D. C.; W. B. Duncan, Pullman representative, and G. Denby of the Associated Press.

HAS A FAMOUS GUARD.

One of the crown prince's attendants is Henry Weismuller, who has acted as personal bodyguard to King Edward and other European monarchs on their travels. He accompanies the Siamese prince as private courier.

His royal highness was up late last night, members of his party say. He retired at 11 o'clock. Ordinarily he goes to bed much earlier, as he requires 10 hours' sleep.

Aboard his special on the Chicago & Alton, coming down from Chicago, however, the prince became interested in the intellectual games of chess and checkers, and his attendants dissipate to the extent of remaining up late. Consequently he was sound asleep when the train pulled into Union Station, and the people who had expected to get a glimpse of the royal personage some day is to rule 16,000,000 subjects, watched in vain for him to alight from his car.

ORDERED HIS BREAKFAST.

The prince called for the porter of his car at 8:20 and ordered his breakfast. The porter said that his royal highness had just doffed the pajamas in which he sleeps. They are of red, white, blue and yellow stripes—yellow Fair, so delicate the prince's delicate complexion to the city of the great Fair.

Every morning the prince, upon arising, takes exercise and a bath. The private car in which he travels is fitted with a bathtub, and after his plunge the prince clasps his hands, goes through a series of light calisthenics, dresses and is ready for his morning meal.

This morning he ordered the following breakfast:

Rice in fancy style, raw tomatoes, small cut sirloin steak omelet, broiled squab, green tea, buttered toast.

"That," said the porter, "is a light break-fast for the prince."

To choose from on his bill of fare the prince had two kinds of fruit, seven meats and seven brands of tea. The porter thought the royal visitor was hardly getting the worth of his money by ordering so sparingly from such an abundant list.

The secretary of the Siamese legation, J. H. Loftus, sent word to the committee of entertainment shortly after the arrival of the train that the prince would not appear at the city hall to be welcomed by the mayor and other officials, and requesting that the latter portion of the day's program be eliminated.

VISIT TO CITY HALL.

It was found, however, that this arrangement could not conveniently be changed, and, under escort of Corwin H. Spencer, Walter B. Stephens and other World's Fair officials, the party proceeded to the City Hall.

Previously Mayor Wells was presented to the prince in his private car at Union Station.

The exchange of greetings was brief. A cordon of police formed a passage way through Union Station, where carriages were taken.

Hundreds of persons lined Market street to watch the prince's progress. The City Hall and the steps leading to the building were literally covered with people.

In the carriage with the prince rode Col. David B. Cal. Phay Baiwai, his first aid-de-camp, and L. C. Wheeler and P. H. Taylor of the United States Secret Service.

The distinguished guests alighted from the cars and a dozen cameras were leveled

JUDGE TRACY WAS SHOCKED

H. J. Crenshaw, on the Stand, Testified That a Negro "Raised —."

Bert T. Langelle Was Fined Fifteen Dollars on Charge of Striking His Better Half.

Hades, a word much used in ancient mythology, is not popular in Judge Tracy's Dayton street police court.

J. H. Crenshaw, an employee of the Normandie Hotel, at Theresa and Franklin avenues, used the modern equivalent of the word Saturday and his testimony fell 100 points in the judge's estimation.

Crenshaw charged William McAllister, a negro, with disturbing his peace by throwing dishes at him in the hotel Friday evening.

"He simply raised —," said Crenshaw.

Judge Tracy, greatly astonished that Mr. Crenshaw did not understand a simple word.

"Well, I discharge the defendant, and I have a mind to fine you for contempt of court," said Tracy.

Mr. Langelle, a bandaged head, came home Friday night and started a family row.

In the altercation, she said, he struck and choked her. One of the children called an officer and Langelle was sent to jail.

Mrs. Ziegler, Aged 81, Dead.

Mrs. Amanda Ziegler, widow of Capt. Alexander Ziegler, died yesterday morning, leaving her husband, the residence of her son, Theodore G. Ziegler, 450 Cass, where she will be buried in Ste. Genevieve, Mo., Sunday.

She resided almost all her life in Ste. Genevieve, coming to St. Louis after her husband's death last May. Another son, Charles Ziegler of 623 Minerva avenue, also survives her.

The argument was over a seat in the Stock Exchange which the officers claim Konta forfeited by nonpayment of dues.

Konta states that in 1886 he was with the St. Louis Stock Exchange and was owner of the St. Louis Finance. At that time the present Stock Exchange was known as the St. Louis Stock & Stockholders Association, which he claims was never dissolved. He also claims that the new organization was one of the members of the old association, which he claims was never dissolved.

All except Butler pleaded not guilty and their cases were set for trial. Butler pleaded guilty and agreed to pay the fine imposed by the court, stating that the money he had given him when he was under the influence of drink was given him to pay his fines.

Butler admitted that he had committed the felony and Judge Adams was disposed to give him a light sentence.

He told a straight story. As he has been in confinement since June 17 he was discharged upon his promise to commit no more offenses against the law.

The argument was over a seat in the Stock Exchange which the officers claim Konta forfeited by nonpayment of dues.

Konta states that in 1886 he was with the St. Louis Stock & Stockholders Association, which he claims was never dissolved.

He also claims that the new organization was one of the members of the old association, which he claims was never dissolved.

In 1889 Konta states that he became interested in a big deal made to organize a syndicate for the purchase of the Carrara marble quarries in Italy. The officers of the company, advised him not to be.

Konta also stated that the only thing he has done since that time is to buy a house with H. H. Weinzig.

Mr. Ziegler, 81, said he found fault with the manner in which the members of the exchange were held in the Stock Exchange. At that time the members were much given to horses, playing in the habit of throwing peanuts, candies and lighting newspaper fires under the desks and chairs of others during the meetings.

During his absence he says that he was not present at the meeting when Weinzig was not once was he notified of dues. When he returned in April, 1902, he was notified that he had been expelled. He applied for writ of habeas corpus to restrain the exchange from unseating him.

The defendants argued to dissolve the corporation. After all evidence had been given, Judge Tracy directed the attorneys to prepare briefs of the economy on both sides and to present them to the court.

Konta stated that he valued his seat in the exchange at $7000.

Donation for Memorial Home.

A donation party will be given at Memorial Hall on the corner of Madison and Locust avenues, for the benefit of the home, Nov. 20, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at which time the managers hope to receive all the supplies for this home of the sheltering winter.

This home, sheltering nearly 100 persons, from 60 to 90 years of age, has no regular maintenance, due to the expense of its maintenance.

"Walter Baker & Co., of Dorchester, Mass., U.S.A., have given years of study to the skilful preparation of cocoa and chocolate, and have devised machinery and systems peculiar to their methods of treatment whereby the purity, palatability, and highest nutritive characteristics are retained. Their preparations are known the world over and have received the highest endorsements from the medical practitioner, the nurse, and the intelligent house-keeper and caterer."—Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

WASHINGTON MEETS THE MISSOURI TIGERS TODAY

Best Game of the Season but One Will Be Played at League Park This Afternoon—Missouri Over Confident.

Chrysanthemums and cheers, a ribbon decked screaming crowd, rival bands and the accompaniments of a real college football game will be part of this afternoon's contest between the elevens of Washington University and the Missouri Tigers.

Ancient rivalry between the elevens will add zest to the struggle, and the announced intention of the Missouri men to walk over the locals promises to result in something more than a battle than that has been witnessed here this season.

Next to the Haskell Indians game scheduled for Thanksgiving day the battle will be the most important of the St. Louis season. Washington has shown a decided improvement in play during the week and although the Missouri men have had one or more substitutes these have been doing well enough to guarantee that their presence in the game will not seriously affect the result.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED.

A big crowd is anticipated. Two entire classes of Washington have made repeated trips to the field in a body, accompanied by the university band. Columbia will have about 600 rooters in the crowd and will also cheer to the accompaniment of a band brought from Columbia for the occasion.

Missouri, with part of the Columbia crowd, arrived last night and are quartered at the Hotel St. Louis. Mr. O'Dea is in charge of the squad and is judiciously encouraging pessimistic views of his team. Notwithstanding the Missouri money from the sale of tickets, the game is to be played for nothing.

The Washington men, on the strength of Missouri's game against Nebraska, expect long fight, but believe that they will not talk up to that the local men will not score a goal, but money at that figure is scarce.

NOT QUITE IN FORM.

O'Dea states that his elevens will be minus the services of several regulars in this afternoon's battle, and that the general condition of the team is not first-class. He tardily admits that he expects to win.

At Washington the "say-nothing-and-saw-nothing" policy is on tap, and a healthful determination to let well prevails. The Washington lineup is unpredictable. Washington may not be out of the game. The former hurt his ankle seriously in the contest with Marion-Sims Thursday, while Larson, the star end, was not in the game on the ground that he played four years with Central College.

A committee protest against Perry of Missouri has been filed that players it is stated, having coached a school eleven prior to attending Missouri University.

A large crowd in Washington's line has placed Cassell in center in place of Gable. The change leaves a hole at guard that will be filled by either Sherman or Hembree, both of whom have been doing nicely in that position.

PLAY BEGINS AT 3:30.

The game will start at 3:30 promptly. Dave Foye and Jim Wear, both former Yale players, will be the officials. The approximate lineup will be:

Washington. Position. Missouri.

Bishoff. Right end. L. W. Smith

Flor. Right tackle. ...

There is still a lot of black smoke and watery mire protesting against any New St. Louis.

It is thought that Uncle Jo Cannon will be a fair speaker of the House. Has Uncle Jo a contempt for precedents?

The fact that many great combinations were made in Germany previous to the present great business depression there, may well be of interest in this country.

Gen. Alger worries no more about round robins and embalmed beef. His admiring fellow citizens in Michigan have made sure his election to the United States Senate.

The Missourian needs a little more showing in the matter of voting or important constitutional amendments. He should always learn enough about them to enable him to vote one way or the other.

ROUNDING OUT THE RECORD.

Delegate Burke's strenuous effort to secure a vote in the House of Delegates on the bill to appropriate $15,000 merely resulted in demonstrating that the House is trying to shelve the bill.

The time that should have been given to business was occupied with pleading the usual excuses and playing the usual monkey tricks. No committee meeting was held because members would not attend.

The House is definitely placing itself on record as opposed to the prosecution of bootlers and bribers. When this record is rounded out the whole record will be unparalleled.

Germany's military system deprives her of more good citizens than she loses in battle.

THE CROWN PRINCE OF SIAM.

The visit of the Prince of Siam is gratifying, especially at this juncture and every effort should be made to make it agreeable to him.

The prince is described as a well-educated, wide-awake young gentleman, who looks on the world with intelligent eyes. Care should be taken that he sees the best while in St. Louis.

Siam is a distant country, but events of the past few years have brought the far East very near to us in sympathy and interest. Siam is our next-door neighbor in eastern waters and it is appropriate that we should take advantage of every opportunity to get acquainted.

But especially should it be made apparent to the Prince of Siam and other eminences from foreign lands that St. Louis is the World's Fair City. It should be made plain that here in St. Louis we are constructing an immense Exposition in which shall be gathered something of interest from every quarter of the earth, where all peoples shall meet and greet each other and which we propose to make the greatest fountain of practical ideas ever seen.

The Crown Prince of Siam is welcome on his own account, and for what he stands for—an alien civilization which we wish to understand.

After deliberating two months, a board of arbitration has decided that there should be an increase of 10 per cent in the wages of Chicago street-men. There will be reluctance to grant it, but the public will be saved great loss and inconvenience.

PROGRESS IN TELEGRAPHY.

Thursday's Post-Dispatch contained news of great interest in regard to the progress being made in telegraphy.

Marconi has succeeded in sending wireless messages, recorded on Morse instruments, across the Atlantic, from Cornwall, England, to Syene, Novia, a greater distance than was originally intended when he built his receiving station on the coast of Newfoundland.

On the same day, it was announced that the first complete circuit of the globe by wire, over land and cable, had been made. The last cable gap has been closed, and for the first time Puck's figure of putting a girdle around the earth is realized.

The message that went around the world actually traveled much more than the 25,000 miles that go to make up a complete earth circle. An examination of the map, showing the telegraphic and cable routes, will show that this message probably traveled from 40,000 to 50,000 miles in order to return to its starting point at Boston. That it took 35 hours to get around is explained by the fact that it was handled by many companies and relayed several times, going in the ordinary course, and taking its turn with the regular business. As every schoolboy is supposed to know, with a complete metallic circuit, the passage of a current of electricity around the earth would be practically instantaneous, electricity having a velocity of 200,000 miles per second.

Trusts with capital aggregating $1,000,000,000 are forming. President Roosevelt must hasten the legislation to regulate these concerns or they will attend to the matter themselves.

DEATH IN PING-PONG.

Ping-pong is full of danger to life and health.

Physicians quoted in the Sunday Post-Dispatch declare that the game should be played only in one's own home, so that the players can hasten at once to the shower and dry clothing. Pneumonia is to be feared or debilitating cold degenerating into consumption; the exposure to a lower temperature after the warm work of the game is sure to make trouble.

"The safest plan," says the authority quoted, "is to play at home, so that the moment the last point is scored, he can hasten to the water and the dry garments. Or, if he play abroad, he may walk as rapidly as possible from the scene of the game to his home, thus avoiding the possibility of being chilled.

The Modern God of Business.

an hour or so before going outdoors. But even this is no absolute guarantee against a cold."

It's terrible to think of. If the ping-pong player is exposed to such awful perils, will he continue to play ping-pong? How can he keep his nerve if he knows that death lurks at the door ready to pounce upon him just as soon as he quits the game?

But ping-pong is no more dangerous than every other activity of life. If you eat you may eat microbes, and die. You breathe microbes. Stop eating and breathing, says the logical person; but there are practical disadvantages attending this course which logic cannot overcome. Other games are just as dangerous as ping-pong—as baseball, cricket, football, croquet, blind man's buff. In fact, the wonder is that anybody is alive to invent new terrors.

A rigid investigation should be made as to the accident to Samuel H. Jones, who was run down by two street cars at Park and California avenues on Friday morning. After being knocked aside by one car, he was struck by the car coming in the other direction. It is said that the crowd of both cars went ahead without stopping to find out what injury had been caused. If this was intentional, the guilty persons should be punished. A similar case happened a few days ago. All such accidents prove the urgent need of a better street railway regulation in St. Louis.

GOVERNMENT AND SEWAGE PROBLEMS

The United States Geological Survey has undertaken to make a scientific study of the problems presented by the Chicago drainage canal.

Long and, and repeatedly, the Post-Dispatch contended that this must be done, that the conditions were so complicated and difficult that only a thorough, scientific examination by the general government could determine the questions raised.

It appears from the statement of Mr. Charles D. Walcott, director of the survey, that science has no rule which will cover all cases. The old idea concerning aeration and oxidation have been given up and the whole subject is revolutionized by practical investigation of the facts without preconceived ideas or prejudices. "The familiar and oft-quoted principle is that a stream purifies itself in 20 miles," says Mr. Walcott, "but how this distance was ever determined on or who was responsible for its general acceptance is a matter of doubt. Certain it is that the statement is entirely wrong in the majority of cases."

Experiments which yield formulas in the waters studied are worthless elsewhere. The formulas "can in no wise be accepted for rivers in general and it remains for the investigator to determine by actual experiment the purifying power of each stream with which he has to do."

This is exactly what the Post-Dispatch has maintained from the beginning.

The proposed investigations will be made this winter. The survey will take up the work not only in the Illinois river, but in other streams which are of interest to the Mississippi Valley. At the conclusion of the work we may expect authoritative scientific rules for practical procedure.

In an election both the great parties resort to disreputable methods, and whichever is defeated can truthfully roar about the wickedness of the other. It is the duty of men of every party to do all in their power to prevent such conditions.

NO AMERICANS FOR THE PRINCE.

The Crown Prince of Siam, who is in St. Louis today, is entitled to more than 100 wives under the laws of his native land, and his quota is by no means full.

The prince is not over here on a recruiting expedition, as might be imagined, nor has he even mentioned matrimony, so far as known, though he has displayed a marked fondness for American girls, and has made three of them members of his Order of the Butterly.

It is not at all likely that any of our American beauties will grace the household of the crown prince, however much the dear creatures may love a title, and however pleasant it might be to be the wife of a king, surrounded by all the splendors of the Orient.

It may take 100 Siamese women to furnish enough love to satisfy the heart of their lord and master—for such he is—but one bright American girl, if that is to be the test, is worth a hundred Siamese beauties, for one bright American girl can inspire enough affection to set the heart of a man a-bursting. To attempt to love more than one at a time were dangerous.

Besides, the American girl does not fancy the idea of being possessed or driven in droves to the marriage altar. No syndicate weddings for her. She is the only pebble on the matrimonial beach, and she insists upon maintaining her station.

Mr. McKinley's assistant secretary of the treasury, Mr. Vandenberg, makes the interesting statement that in less than five years we have had an increase in the total bank deposits of the country of more than $4,000,000,000, accompanied by no increase in the specie and legal tender holding of the banks.

It is not remarkable that there is so great an amount of gold in the Treasury. The world's output of gold is so large and so unlikely to be enormously increased that there are already apprehensions of a decline in its value.

With the best beef retailing at 44 cents a pound in Germany the German farmer ought to be a highly successful stock raiser.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

The use of the phonograph at Kansas funerals may lead to a general improvement of hymn singing for such occasions.

Great shipments of American prunes are going to Europe. Will the Europeans feel kindly toward us when they are full of prunes?

It is to be hoped that the equine attendants of the Coliseum show will not indulge in any horse-laugh if they see anything ridiculous.

Doubtless Senator Smoot of Utah will hold that it is better to have two or three wives than to make love to the girl in his kitchen.

It is said that the war department is reluctant to commit itself on the subject of prize fighting in the army. Perhaps our strenuous President will write something about it.

An editor from Buffalo preached in one of the pulpits of St. Louis last Sunday. No doubt the churches would be stronger with more good newspaper men in the pulpit frequently.

The finding in Oklahoma, by Mr. Menke, of the bones of frogs that were as big as oxen, knocks out to some extent the popular fable of the frog that perished in an attempt to expand himself to bovine dimensions.

The supposition of a Hungarian boy that his father rose from the grave nightly and bombarded the home with stones is not as unreasonable as it may seem. Some fathers have made a great deal of trouble for their families while in the body.

The old friends of the River des Peres will be pleased to read the statement of the government scientists that self-purification in a sluggish stream is far more effective than in a swift current.

CONSTANT READER—No, a girl is not “looked down on” because she makes her living as a model for artists. But she is looked down on if she is not a good girl.

Profits in Good Roads.

From the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

An argument for good roads has been made by an engineer who has estimated the cost of transporting goods over the highways. He figures that the cost of moving a ton by horsepower is 10 cents; over mud, 20 cents; over broken stone and ruts, 30 cents; over an earthen road, that is dry and hard, 15 cents; over a broken stone road, 20 cents; over a stone paving, 50 cents; over asphalt, 27 cents. It is argued that many millions of dollars would be saved and more money would be available in the market if the roads were such that transportation by wagon would cost not more than 5 cents a mile.

The Modern God of Business.

Siam has been sounding capitalists with a view to interesting them in development in his native country.

Even that divinity which hedges kings must play second fiddle in these times to the modern god of business.

BUYING ORDERS FOR STREET RAILWAYS

TRANSIT ROSE A FRACTION ON LARGE PURCHASES.

BONDS ALSO ON UPGRADE

Good Inquiry Again for Fourth National—Trust Company Shares Were Inactive.

Belated strength was shown in the street railway stocks Saturday, all classes being much benefited by buying inquiry following the publication of recent splendid earnings which lifted them fractionally.

What transpired was most noticeable in this connection was the buying up of a scattered character, especially in St. Louis Transit, which sold from $28.75 to $28.875, and closed at the best.

United Railways pfd. also acted quite firmly, closing at $82.25, but the 4s were stronger and advanced to $85.75 without a break.

Transit Association 6s were taken at $95 and the usual combination of industries were quoted, without bringing about any sales however.

Fourth National's bank shares were sought for a point advance, $323 being bid and $330 asked.

National Bank of Commerce was firm, and offered at $35.

There was good demand for Third National again at $336, but the security lacked some of its former strength.

IF GIRL DOES NOT PROSECUTE HE MUST FACE ANOTHER CHARGE.

HE RESISTED AN OFFICER

GREAT SINGERS AND LEADERS TO BE THERE

BEST MILITARY BANDS OF THE WORLD GOING TO BERLIN.

TO HONOR WAGNER'S MEMORY

Dedication of the Monument Takes Place at German Capital in October, 1903.

CITY ATTORNEY TAYLOR SAYS HIS BOND WILL BE FORFEITED IF HE DOES NOT COME INTO COURT.

A complete new "Daylight Special" train has just been built expressly for the Illinois Central's St. Louis-Chicago service and it will be on exhibition at Union Station, track 18, from 10:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 11, it going into regular service on the departure of the "Daylight Special" for Chicago at 11:30 a.m. the next day. In structural character this new train will combine every convenience and comfort. Among the novelties the parlor car is a writing desk for the ladies, similar to that furnished for the gentlemen in the buffet-library car. The interior of the train will be in accordance with the refined taste of the times, been made on lines of a harmonious and chaste simplicity. The car interior is covered in monogram green and light mahogany. The train as a whole consists of a new buffet-library car, parlor car, complete dining car, free restaurant car and a coach. In the exterior decoration an innovation has been made in that the entire outside of the car has been harmonized and decorated with colors of green, gold and black-bronze or "standard" the combination producing a tasteful but striking effect. Both outside and inside the special has been made "A Handsome Train."

MEXICAN GOVERNOR HERE.
Pedro B. Leal, Executive of Nuevo Leon, Visits St. Louis.

Governor Pedro Bautista Leal, of the state of Nuevo Leon, Mex., was entertained yesterday by the Latin-American Club of this city. He has been touring the United States in the company of E. Dysterud, an engineer and manager of an electrical plant at Yonkers, the governor having recently been away from his country for two months studying the political, social and economic life of the United States. He traveled all over for six weeks and will return tonight.

Gov. Leal says that the Mexicans of his state have a high regard for Americans who have done much toward developing the country, and that Mexico will make a creditable display at the World's Fair.

Gov. Leal says that the Mexicans of his state have a high regard for Americans who have done much toward developing the country, and that Mexico will make a creditable display at the World's Fair.

The case against E. R. Marshall will be no bane prosecuted, according to statements made by City Attorney Perry Taylor and court officials this morning.

Marshall was arrested Thursday night in front of the Coliseum on charges of insulting a young lady while the Horse Show audience was leaving the building.

The parlor car is a writing desk for the ladies, similar to that furnished for the gentlemen in the buffet-library car. The interior of the train will be in accordance with the refined taste of the times, been made on lines of a harmonious and chaste simplicity. "We are going to hold the defendant coming out and disclose his identity or his bond will be forfeited. It will then be certified to the circuit court. There have been instances where he has forfeited in all nothing but the disposition in this instance is to make it mean the real thing."

CITY NEWS.

The CRAWFORD STORE of all others is the one at which to outfit your boys, girls, little ones and infants!! No other one takes the pains this store does to see that it keeps all the needful things wanted, and always the best in qualities and at the lowest possible prices!!

Alleged Watch Theft.—Edward Atterbury of East St. Louis was arrested yesterday at Eighth and Pine streets by Detectives Keely and Cordell on information from the east side that he is wanted there on the charge of stealing a gold watch from J. H. Guest.

William Otis Proctor of 4249 McPherson avenue received a check yesterday for $44 from his brother, Joseph O. Proctor, of Gloucester, Mass., which carried his memory back to a tale related by his grandfather in the dark days of the French revolution.

It was a reminder of the times when an unarmed ship could not roam the seas without danger of capture by privateers or pirates, when the flaggared vessels and a sad incident in the mercantile career of Joseph Proctor in 1788.

Proctor was a representative by the French government to the house of Joseph Proctor for the loss of his ship and cargo during that year. There are 270 hours, and the claim has been for 100 years, and the authorities ever since the war of 1788. It has recently been allowed, and is being distributed by Joseph Proctor of Gloucester.

On the back of the check is the following inscription:

This check is for 1,270th of $120, your part of the sum due me from the French Government for my loss of schooner Adams, owned by Joseph Proctor, who died in 1865. Joseph O. Proctor is admittably the son of the deceased, with his brothers, has prosecuted the case, and obtained the above-named result. Your name signed on the line below will be a receipt for the money.

The Adams was seized by a French vessel, her cargo confiscated, and the ship scuttled, failing to pay the ransom demanded, which was the business of their grandfather, and W. O. Proctor of this city is a member of the firm of Proctor & Connell Fish Co., wholesale dealers.
